

January Poem

Don't take down the Christmas Lights.
The winter is so long.
The stars are few and far between
On these January nights.